IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF JEFFERSON COUNTY, ALABAMA

SAMANTHA FARRIS;

Plaintiff;

v.

Case No.: _____

STRYKER CORPORATION;

Fictitious Party Nos. 1-5, other responsible Stryker entities; Fictitious Party Nos. 6-30, the designer, manufacturer, creator of warnings
and/or seller of the nail made the basis of this complaint;

Defendants.

COMPLAINT

This is an action for personal injuries sustained by the plaintiff, Samantha Farris, when a nail designed, manufactured and sold by the defendant, Stryker Corporation, broke inside of her body.

PARTIES, JURISDICTION AND VENUE

1. Samantha Farris is an individual over the age of 19 who resides in Jefferson County, Alabama. She turns 21 years old on December 30, 2018.

2. Stryker Corporation is a foreign corporation registered to do business in the state of Alabama and which maintains continuous and systemic contacts with the State of Alabama by selling products here and employing sales representatives to promote its products.

3. Fictitious Party Nos. 1-5 are other Stryker entities (or related Stryker entities with different names) which may have designed, manufactured or sold the nail.

4. Fictitious Party Nos. 6-30 are non-Stryker entities that may have designed, manufactured, sold, provided warnings and instructions for and/or otherwise placed the nail at issue into the stream of commerce.

5. The nail broke, first evidencing its defect, in Jefferson County, and was removed and repaired at UAB Hospital in Jefferson County.

6. The amount in controversy exceeds the $10,000 minimum of this court.

FACTS COMMON TO ALL COUNTS

7. Samantha was in a terrible car accident on August 19, 2015, in which she sustained numerous injuries. She was treated at UAB Hospital

8. On or about August 26, 2015, she had what is described in her records as a “NAIL 9MM 33CM TIB T2 IM” inserted in her left leg.

9. The nail was designed, manufactured and sold by the defendant, Stryker Corporation and/or Fictitious Party Nos. 1-30.

10. On or about April 23, 2016, the nail broke. Her physician wrote that, “The breaking of the nail is highly atypical, and would investigate non-infectious causes of nail failure, may need to talk to the manufacturer.”

11. The broken nail required two revision surgeries and caused great physical pain. The broken nail also caused emotional distress in the form of stress, frustration, anxiety and grief because it delayed Samantha's recovery process.

12. The specific information about why the nail failed is available only from Stryker Corporation records and/or through inspection of the nail, which must be done with the cooperation of Stryker.

13. Samantha and her attorneys secured the nail and associated tissue from UAB Hospital and have preserved it. Samantha, through her attorneys on several occasions, contacted Stryker and requested a joint inspection of the nail, so that litigation could potentially be avoided based on results of the inspection, but Stryker rejected those requests.

COUNT I: NEGLIGENCE AGAINST STRYKER

14. Stryker (and Fictitious Party Nos. 1-30) had a duty to exercise reasonable care in designing, manufacturing, warning/instructing about and selling the nail.

15. Stryker (and Fictitious Party Nos. 1-30) breached those duties.

16. Those breaches combined and concurred with the wrongful actions of the other defendants to cause injury to Samantha Farris.

WHEREFORE, Samantha Farris makes a demand against Stryker Corporation (and Fictitious Party Nos. 1-30) for compensatory damages in an amount sufficient to fully and fairly compensate her for her losses.

COUNT II: WANTONNESS AGAINST STRYKER

17. Stryker (and Fictitious Party Nos. 1-30) had a duty not to do anything in designing, manufacturing, instructing/warning and/or selling the nail that it knew was likely to injure or kill someone.

18. Stryker (and Fictitious Party Nos. 1-30) breached those duties.

19. Those breaches combined and concurred with the wrongful actions of the other defendants to cause injury to Samantha Farris.

WHEREFORE, Samantha Farris makes a demand against Stryker Corporation (and Fictitious Party Nos. 1-30) for compensatory damages in an amount sufficient to fully and fairly compensate her for her losses and for punitive damages in an amount sufficient to deter and discourage similar conduct in the future.

COUNT III: AEMLD AGAINST STRYKER

20. Stryker (and Fictitious Party Nos. 1-30) sold and/or otherwise placed into the stream of commerce the nail that broke inside Samantha, the ultimate user/consumer; therefore, Stryker (and Fictitious Party Nos. 1-30) had a duty to make sure that the nail was not defective and unreasonably dangerous as defined under the Alabama Extended Manufacturers Liability Doctrine.

21. The nail was defective and unreasonably dangerous in that it did not meet the reasonable expectations of the ordinary consumer as to safety as defined under the Alabama Extended Manufacturers Liability Doctrine.

22. The defective and unreasonably dangerous condition of the nail was a cause of injury to Samantha Farris, as described above.

WHEREFORE, Samantha Farris makes a demand against Stryker Corporation (and Fictitious Party Nos. 1-30) for compensatory damages in an amount sufficient to fully and fairly compensate her for her losses.

COUNT IV: BREACH OF WARRANTIES AGAINST STRYKER

23. Stryker (and Fictitious Party Nos. 1-30) made statements of fact about the nail, made promises about its performance, and described the nail in certain ways. Further, Stryker (and Fictitious Party Nos. 1-30) implied that the nail was suitable for the particular purpose of not breaking in someone's leg was fit for the ordinary purposes for which it was used, which is helping stabilize someone's leg after surgery.

24. The nail did not conform to the express and implied warranties made by Stryker (and Fictitious Party Nos. 1-30); and more specifically, the nail was not fit for the particular purpose for which it was purchased and was not suitable for the ordinary purpose for which it was used.

25. Those breaches of warranties and promises by Stryker (and Fictitious Party Nos. 1-30) were causes of injury to Samantha Farris as described above.

WHEREFORE, Samantha Farris makes a demand against Stryker Corporation (and Fictitious Party Nos. 1-30) for compensatory damages in an amount sufficient to fully and fairly compensate her for her losses.

JURY DEMAND

Samantha requests a trial by struck jury.

Respectfully submitted December 27, 2018,
